South Palm Beach County Bar Association installs new president

Michael D. Mopsick, managing partner of Buckingham, Doolittle & Burroughs' Boca Raton office, was recently installed as President of the South Palm Beach County Bar Association at the association's annual Installation Gala at the Boca Raton Resort & Club. The well-attended event included several Palm Beach County judges and other dignitaries.

South Palm Beach County Bar Association

The South Palm Beach County Bar Association is a non-profit voluntary association that fosters a shared commitment to excellence in the law, while enhancing the skills of its members through education, networking and community outreach since 1962. It serves the needs of the legal and business communities of Boca Raton, Delray and Boynton Beach.

Hon. John Phillips and Michael Mopsick, Esq.

Mopsick, the Boca Raton resident, has been a board member for six years and has served as treasurer and secretary. He has also coordinated the association's monthly luncheon speaker series.

The newly installed board president focuses his practice on probate and trust litigation and commercial litigation in state and federal courts.

His litigation experience includes breach of contract, fraud, construction, real estate, business torts, unfair competition, restrictive covenants, and corporate and partnership issues.

Mopsick earned his bachelor's degree from Rutgers College and was valedictorian of his class. He received his J.D. from the University of Virginia. He is admitted to The New Jersey Bar, The Florida Bar, U.S. District Court, District of New Jersey, and U.S. District Court, Southern and Northern Districts of Florida.
