AREAS OF PRACTICE
Real Estate & Construction

I am a transactional attorney. I handle the buying, selling, leasing, development and financing of real estate for business clients. My clients look to me for my expertise in negotiating and drafting contracts and leases, resolving title issues and closing deals.

I use many different approaches to help my clients optimize their real estate investments, whether it is subleasing warehouse space or converting an existing building to a commercial condominium. I work together with in-house counsel, architects, brokers, project managers and other members of the client's real estate team to address every aspect of a transaction.

From sophisticated national tenants to first-time owners and developers, I work to minimize your risks while ensuring your real estate needs are met.
