Real Estate & Construction

Lucas typically represents small to midsize businesses with revenues from $2M to $500M as outside general corporate counsel on day-to-day contract matters, organizational documents, buy-sell agreements, and succession planning as well as focusing on sophisticated mergers and acquisitions and real estate transactions. He works closely with his partners that specialize in litigation, workers' compensation, labor and employment, complex tax and securities matters, and estate planning to ensure that a business is properly represented in all areas of law.

Because he represents a variety of organizations, each with unique needs, Lucas strives to understand the clients' businesses, challenges and objectives so he can offer comprehensive guidance and exceed expectations. The strength of integrity and trust within the relationships he has with clients is key to being an effective sounding board and close advisor to the businesses and clients he is privileged to represent.
