AREAS OF PRACTICE
Litigation
Employment & Labor

I am a litigation attorney specializing in family law and workers' compensation law. I represent executives, business owners, physicians, other licensed professionals and individuals and their spouses dealing with family law issues. I also provide legal counsel and representation to employers from a wide variety of industries in Ohio Workers' Compensation matters.

Over the years, I have successfully handled complex high profile family law and workers' compensation matters. I have settled and litigated financial issues in some of the largest divorce cases in Ohio and have served as past chair of the Family Law Section of the Akron Bar Association. I handle each case individually based on the specific issues of the case and my clients' unique concerns.

Often times, my clients are facing one of the most difficult and challenging times of their lives. Because I understand my clients' needs, I am here to guide them through sensitive and highly contentious situations both in and out of the courtroom. I receive many of my referrals from peers, past clients and business contacts familiar with my dedication, commitment and compassion to effectively handle, negotiate and litigate tough cases.
